

YCP DAILY BULLETIN

YORK COLLEGE
OF PENNSYLVANIA

email: cadamy@ycp.edu or call 815-1562

TODAY MONDAY, MAY 10, 2010

Final Exams continue through Thursday, May 13.

COMING

Graduation Worship Service, Brougner Chapel, Friday, May 14, 7:30 p.m.
All are welcome. Make this a part of your graduation experience.
Questions, contact lworley@ycp.edu.

Spring Commencement, Saturday, May 15, 10:30 a.m.

INFORMATIONAL

COMMENCEMENT REHEARSAL: A brief rehearsal for spring commencement will be held on Wednesday, May 12, at 5:30 p.m. in Wolf Gymnasium, Grumbacher Sport and Fitness Center. Your attendance is required.

STUDENTS RECEIVING VA EDUCATION ASSISTANCE BENEFITS:
Remember to stop by the Records Office before leaving campus for the summer to sign your Request for Certification for the fall semester.

SCHMIDT LIBRARY EXAM HOURS FOR MAY 2–MAY 12:

Monday - Thursday 8 a.m. - 2 a.m.

Friday 8 a.m. - 8 p.m.

Saturday 10 a.m. - 8 p.m.

Sunday 12 noon - 2 a.m.

ATTENTION MAY GRADUATES AND FAMILY MEMBERS:

Please join us on Saturday, May 15, at 9 a.m. for the Commencement Reception in the Johnson Dining Room and at 10:30 a.m. for Spring Commencement on the Wolf Hall lawn. A delicious Graduation Buffet Luncheon for students and families will immediately follow the Graduation Ceremony in the Johnson Dining Room. The luncheon is complimentary for graduates.

ATTENTION ALL NURSING STUDENTS IN CLINICAL COURSES IN FALL 2010: Your Professional Level CPR from the American Heart Association (BLS for the Healthcare Provider), tuberculin skin testing, proof of health insurance, and Child Abuse and Criminal Background checks must be current for the fall 2010 semester. Check your Nursing Mailbox for a personalized list of requirements due. Updated results must be received at the Department of Nursing no later than July 1, 2010. You will have to withdraw from the clinical course for the Fall 2010 semester if you do not comply with these PA State Board Regulations by this date. NO EXCEPTIONS! Please note: Ability to register for the clinical course the following semester will be based on availability of space. Please direct questions to Mrs. Myers at 815-6473 or email pmyers2@ycp.edu.

DO YOU LOVE YORK COLLEGE? Can you think on your feet? Do you want to share your college experience with new students? If you answered yes to these questions then consider applying to the York College Ambassador program. Ambassadors host the campus college tours. Applications are available at the Admissions Office located in the Miller Administration Building. A personal interview is required.

ATTENTION NURSING STUDENTS who expect to progress to NUR210/211 BASIC PRINCIPLES, Fall 2010: Please pick up required packet of pre-clinical forms in the Nursing Media Lab (MKN127) or Nursing Office (MKN118) now. All requirements must be received at the Dept. of Nursing by July 1, 2010, or you will not be accepted into NUR210/211. Please direct questions to Mrs. Myers at 815-6473 or email pmyers2@ycp.edu.

WORD OF THE DAY: cosmeticize \kahz-MET-uh-syze\ verb Meaning: to make (something unpleasant or ugly) superficially attractive. Example Sentence: The authors of the legislation have cosmeticized it with tax breaks and tax cuts. Did you know? "Cosmeticize" first appeared in print in the early 19th century as a descendant of the noun "cosmetic." Originally, its use was often literal, with the meaning "to apply a cosmetic to," but today it is often used figuratively. "Cosmeticize" does occasionally draw criticism; usage commentators are sometimes irritated by verbs coined using "-ize" as they can sound like silly, nonce words. "Cosmeticize" is fairly well-established, however, in contrast with the two other, rarer verbs that have been derived from "cosmetic": "cosmetize," which often turns up in the literal sense ("cosmetize the face"), and "cosmetic," which can be literal or figurative ("cosmeticked with bright rouge"; "embellished and cosmeticked").

DAILY BULLETIN STATEMENT OF POLICY

The purpose of the Daily Bulletin is simple; it is designed to inform students of the day-to-day happenings in the YCP community. To ensure that your information is included in the Bulletin, certain guidelines have been established: The Office of Communications reserves the right to edit all copy and make editorial judgments on content. Items submitted will appear generally three days (the day of the event and two days prior). Items may be submitted by emailing cadamy@ycp.edu. Please include your name, phone number, event/meeting location, date, and time. We print only those activities that are campus-sponsored events. No personal ads will be printed. The deadline for submission is noon the day prior to the publication date. Questions or information concerning the Daily Bulletin should be directed to Colleen Adamy, Daily Bulletin Editor, Ext. 1562.